“I refer to NRCG as they are quite approachable and the advice and financial assistance helps ,when people are struggling financially they tend not to travel well ,this can lead to depression among other things, having their needs meet here helps them to be able to focus on other factors that are going on in their lives .” Deb – Rekindling The Spirit

“Having someone they can talk to about their situation build trusts ,most of my clients are private people and are not readily wanting to talk to just anyone about not knowing how to manage their money ,but having someone they can talk to about their situation has built trust and that is why I have referred my clients .” Deb – Rekindling The Spirit
